TITLE : : A smart city framework proposal for Tech companies

Abstract

Smart Cities is a new study field that triggers us many questions and little answers, yet. Since 2018, I'm treating at the research seminars in the International Week at Iaelyon the advances in the field. I want to propose the audience, in this occasion, my findings related to a field research developed in this pandemic year

Bio

Smart Cities specialist. International lecturer & researcher. Director of Degree & Post Degree studies on Smart Cities. International advisor in cities management.